The Home Care Referral Registry was developed to improve the quality of long term in-home care services for individuals receiving COPES and Medicaid Personal Care services through DSHS.

The Referral Registry provides local support and guidance.

Registry Coordinators can help you choose qualified home care workers that are best suited to your needs and preferences.

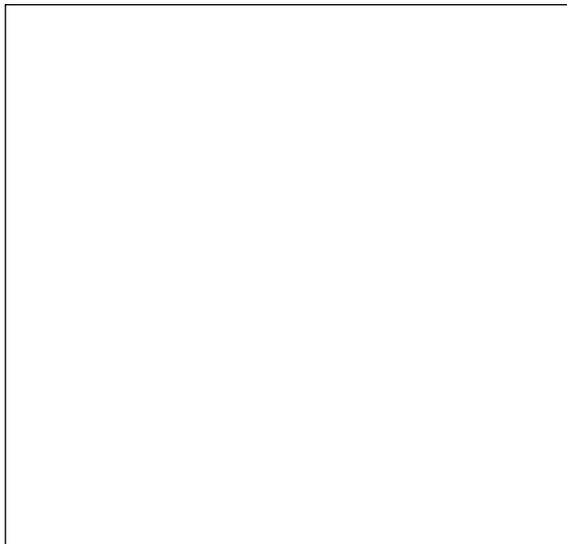

The Home Care Referral Registry offers you the opportunity to choose your own pre-screened caregiver.

The Registry is a free service connecting willing caregivers with people in Washington State who receive publicly funded in-home care services.

Looking for screened home care workers available in your area?

How Does the Referral Registry Work?

1. Individual Providers can enroll in their local Referral Registry specifying personal care tasks they are willing to do, when they are available and who they are willing to serve.
2. You, your family or your Case Manager can contact your Registry office to request a referral list based on your needs and preferences.
3. The Referral Registry generates a list of pre-screened Individual Providers, based on the best-match criteria.
4. You can choose a provider from the list or request assistance from a local Registry Coordinator for additional support.

Find a worker best suited to your needs and preferences
